TORONTO, May 20—Lieutenant Governor Lionel S. Clark has received a telegram from Thomas Mulvey, under-secretary of state, Ottawa, with reference to the King's birthday celebration, as follows: It is His Majesty's wish that his birthday should be celebrated on June the 3rd in overseas dominions, colonies and protectorates. The nature of the ceremonies to be observed will be left to the discretion of the King's representatives and inhabitants, but His Majesty does not wish any unnecessary expense to be incurred. The celebration of His Majesty's birthday in the United Kingdom will be observed on June 5.

Daughter of Former Colemanite an Actress

Miss "Bunty" Manley, daughter of Lloyd A. Manley, one time owner and proprietor of the Grand Union hotel at Coleman, is now a star. The Vancouver Sun of May 16th, contains the following comment on the brilliance of the new arrival.

"To step at one stride from a studio as a commercial designer in to a star part in a five-act drama with no previous experience and only a slight knowledge of the stage gained in her native province, to be selected for the part from among 20,000 candidates, is the triumph just achieved in New York by Miss 'Bunty' Manley, a native daughter of British Columbia. Bunty was christened Helen, but very few of her friends remember that fact and even her family have almost forgotten that she ever had any other name than Bunty, and Bunty will be her stage name henceforth."

In a nationwide contest, in which some 20,000 competed, Bunty was the only one of a choice fifteen asked to come back, and was awarded the grand prize. Bunty Manley was born at Grand Forks B. C., in 1901.

Mr. Thomas Longworth, president of the Lethbridge G.W.A., has been chosen by the executive committee of the Alberta Veterans to represent the provincial command at the convention of the British Columbia War Veterans to be held at Fernie, June 3, 4 and 5. Mr. Longworth has been a delegate at 18 conventions of Veterans.

The residence of J. A. Grenier with all its contents, was totally destroyed by fire at an early hour on Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Grenier barely escaped with their lives. The loss to Mr. Grenier is a heavy one, as but little insurance was carried.

The president of a Chicago trust company was arrested for carrying a bottle of seven-year-old stuff in his rear trousers' pocket. He says that he thought he was within the law, but probably now realizes that prohibition is in force in the republic.

These works are the largest of their kind in America, are complete in every detail, and modern in every respect. To fully appreciate the magnitude and extent of these works, it is necessary to make a tour of the various buildings. Fully a million dollars are being expended in their construction and the installing of the necessary machinery and equipment.

A modern tippie of 2000 tons capacity is to be erected by the Canadian American Coal & Coke Co., at Frank. The contract has been let to Messrs. Frayer & Sinclair. Challenge

The Bellevue Young People's Club held a picnic at Crows' Nest on the 24th, everybody reporting a whole of a time, the day's outing having a grand finale in the shape of a dance in the dining hall of the Sunnair Hotel. The members of this now famous Club have nothing but praise for the welcome extended by the management of this hotel. It will be remembered that this Club gave a most successful dance at their home town, a couple of weeks ago. The Club now extends a challenge to all or any football or girls' or boys' basketball teams of intermediate standing in the district. Communicate with the secretary, Z. H. Inglis, Bellevue.

A good tale is told of how a simple country fellow silenced a barrier. It was the question of the age of a mare.

"How do you know that such is the age of the mare?" shouted the barrier.

"I had it from the mare's own mouth," replied the witness—Till.

Time to Call A Halt

The great Hudson's Bay Company, the pioneer trading organization in this year celebrating its 250th anniversary, and splendid pageants commemorating the event are being held in those cities which have developed out of the Company's old trading posts and forts. Participating in these pageants is Sir Robert Kindersley, present governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, who is also director of the bank of England. Sir Robert is a man, therefore, who is fully conversant with present commercial and financial conditions throughout the world, and anything he may have to say on such subjects are worthy of the thoughtful attention and serious consideration of the people of Western Canada. In a recent address at Calgary, he said: "Unless we stop sailing along the smooth waters of this present false prosperity, brought about through inflation, which gives the world an additional purchasing power which is unreal, I say, if we don't stop now, we shall be faced with the most appalling financial crisis in the next five or six years that the world has ever seen. As a trader I speak to you, because I know—and tell you that only one way remains for us to reach the goal we seek—prosperity and happiness—and that is for each and every one to devote their energies to a campaign of real productivity and for the elimination of consumption of all luxuries."

In uttering these words of warning, Sir Robert Kindersley is only repeating what the most astute and best informed men the world over have been saying and urging for some time past. Up to the present time, however, their words seem to have fallen on deaf ears. The situation in Canada is very similar to that in the United States, although possibly not quite so aggravated because in this country we suffered losses during the war out of all proportion to those sustained by the United States, while we did not profit to the same extent as our southern neighbors did.

Nevertheless, conditions on the North American continent are very similar, and here in Canada we may well heed the summing up of the difficulty in the United States as stated by an observant American writer: when he says: "There is too much of spending and too little earning; too much extravagance and too little economy; too much restlessness and vague desire and too little real enjoyment."

Canada, like the United States, was settled by a sturdy, hard-working people. The fathers and grandfathers, the mothers and grandmothers, of the present generation of Canadians hewed down the forests of Ontario and Quebec and built their primitive homes. They worked hard, practiced economy, yet found real, deep and abiding joy in lives of achievement. The same process was followed by the pioneer settlers on these vast prairies. The rich men of Western Canada today came here as poor lads, and most of our merchant princes and well-to-do farmers can recall the days of almost abject poverty and unending titling toil.

It was these men and their equally courageous womenfolk who made

Canada what it is. They knew nothing of the soft life. They all knew work, denial, hardship, and with it all deep enjoyment and good fun when there was time for it. But the fun was not the end which they sought. They knew nothing about taking something which someone else had created and sitting back to watch the money roll in and then spend it. Our foreign-born citizens came to Canada, not expecting a soft life, but a chance to work and get ahead in life.

It would almost seem as if the present generation of Canadians, and the newer settlers coming to our land, have forgotten these things. There would seem to be a real need for a realization of the truth that it is only by the continued practice of those qualities and the maintenance of those standards which made Canada what it is—that this Dominion can be maintained and made still greater. If, says one writer, we could have some of the old-fashioned hard work, and saving, and self-denial, we might also have some of the old-fashioned contentment and joy of living, instead of the unrest and discontent and constant seeking after leisure which does not seem to satisfy. The present generation has more than any other ever had, and it is bored to death. It seems to think that because everything isn't still softer, easier and still more perfect, that it is all wrong.

It is time for a revival of common sense, simple tastes and work and saving. If that revival does not come voluntarily, if such words of warning as uttered by Sir Robert Kindersley and a host of others are not heeded then hard times are ahead and many will in adversity and suffering regret that in these times they did not work save and prepare for the future.

Ask for Minard's and take no other.

Delivery by Parachute

Grant Licenses Authorizing the Dropping of Packages by Parachute From Aircraft

The British Air Ministry has announced that in an amendment of the air navigation regulations, licenses may now be obtained to drop packages by parachute. The amendment reads: "An amendment to the air navigation regulations dated 30th March provides that the Secretary of State may, on application being made to him, grant licenses to firms engaged in the aircraft industry, authorizing the dropping of packages by parachutes from aircraft on to dropping grounds approved by him for the purpose, subject to such conditions and for such time as may be specified in the license, and subject also to any directions issued by the Secretary of State for the purpose of supplementing or giving full effect to this provision."

A MOTHER'S ADVICE

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she is always happy to recommend them to others. Her advice, given after a careful trial, can be readily followed with assured good results. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach. They always do good, they cannot possibly do harm even to the youngest babe. Concerning Mrs. P. Lafont, of Montreal, she writes: "For two months my baby was constipated and cried continually. On the advice of a friend I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and now at the age of five months he is perfectly well and weighs twenty pounds. I am delighted to be able to advise other mothers to use them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail for 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Pleasure of Reading
Reading is a habit as easily cultivated as dancing and holds in a thrall as strong when once acquired. Books are now all that governances used to be (though in too good governance have gone out). They are companions, mentors and entertainers. They can show youth more of life than any pair of eyes can see on the great highway itself, and the view leaves no images to distort the mature vision. Let's punch up the cushions in the window seat and call back the glory of the old silent scenes. It will be strange if the young folk don't forget all about the door—Kansas City Star.

A Few Incidental That Have Added To the Happiness of the Human Race

Do you really want the "good old days" when there were no Pullmans, fast trains, anesthetics, telephones, bicycles, automobiles, moving pictures, refrigerators, bath tubs, vacuum separators, phonographs, cold storage, plate glass, gas cooking ranges, incandescent lights, aeroplanes, elevators, fast ocean liners, X-ray photography, typewriters, adding machines, cash registers, asphalt, rubber cups, telescopes, linotypes, high speed presses, and automatic machines in almost every branch of endeavor? Think it over. Have these things not added something to the measure of human happiness.—From the Ottawa Journal.

One Great Essential To a Woman's Health Is Her Nerves

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long, instead of being sick and wretched. But how can any woman be healthy and happy when the whole nervous system is unstrung. The trouble is they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health. If they wonder then that it becomes irritable and nervous, have hot flashes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells, become weak and nervous, and everything in life becomes dark and gloomy.

Millburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, tired-out, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mrs. P. H. Ryan, Sand Point, N.S., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep at night and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling and had hot flashes and fainting spells. When I was on my second box of Millburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel better and kept on until I had used six boxes, when I felt like a different person. I am never without the bottle and recommend them to all who suffer with their nerves."

Natural Resources Mapped Map Shows Clearly Where All The Natural Resources Are Situated

The natural resources intelligence branch of the Department of the Interior, of which P. C. Lynd is superintendent, is responsible for the publishing of a map which will prove of the utmost value to all those seeking information regarding the natural resources of Canada, together with the transportation facilities. A glance at the map shows clearly where all the vast natural resources are situated, whether in the shape of timber, coal, the precious metals, and pulp wood, furs, natural gas and oil, and also the numerous water-power opportunities throughout the country also being indicated.

Thus the seeker after information can find out merely by opening the map that in Nova Scotia and other Maritime provinces he can engage in mixed farming, mining and fishing; in Quebec he will find a wealth of timber for pulp wood, minerals go be dug from the earth, including asbestos, graphite, molybdenite; in the neighboring province of Ontario much the same possibilities exist, while in the prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the possibilities of which have only been barely scratched, the intending settler, prospector or business man will find himself surrounded with a veritable embarrassment of riches. He can obtain large returns for his investment and labor either in grain growing, mixed farming, ranching, fishing, whilst the more adventurous can go further to the north and dig for the devil's hidden wealth or seek their fortune in the Hudson Bay. Then there are also shown the riches of British Columbia hidden in the mountainous fastnesses, whilst the lover of less adventurous avocations can revel in the fertile valleys of the Okanagan and other districts where a man and his family can live happily, peacefully and comfortably from the products of a five-acre orchard.

Almost one-third of the surface of Newfoundland is covered by fresh water lakes.

The Farm Workshop

It Pays to Have A Work Bench And A Kit of Tools

It is quite as necessary that a farmer should understand the use of tools and machinery as that he should be well posted in the principles of stock raising, grain growing or any other department intimately connected with his vocation. He should know when his moving machine, hay rake, plow or other implements are not in proper adjustment, and be able to apply the remedy, and to be well enough posted to prevent being cheated when purchasing these implements.

It is now generally admitted that every farmer should own a good workshop, build a place for the purpose, and get a kit of bench tools just as soon as the circumstances will permit of it; then a tool will be at hand when wanted, and nearly all the repairs upon farm implements and the buildings may be done without going to the expense of employing a professional mechanic.

There are rakes, and hay racks, sleds, wagon boxes, harrows, field rollers, etc., which may be kept in good order at the home workshop, and innumerable improvements made around the farm buildings. There are grain troughs to be made, barn doors to fix up by rehanging, stanchions to build or improve, weather boarding to be put on and roofs to mend; besides a host of other little necessities in and about the place for the convenience of the women folks as well as the men.

Any man of ordinary ability will be surprised after a little practice to find how much he is capable of doing. If he is a man of the habit of doing his work well, he will also have the satisfaction of knowing that he has saved a good round bill at the village shop. A man cannot be called shrewd who goes one or two miles to have a few whittlers make what he can work it himself in the time of going to the shop, to say nothing of having to pay for having it done besides.—Practical Farmer.

Experimental Farm Wanted

So-Called Dry District in Southern Saskatchewan Should Be Served.

For several years farmers in the south-western part of the province of Saskatchewan in what is called the dry district, have been clamoring for an experimental farm.

Prof. Jackson, of the agricultural college at Saskatoon, has records that show that in the north-eastern part of the province, where the rainfall is abundant, the average period between the late spring frosts and the first frost was 133 days, and in the south-western part of the province 183 days. There is thus an opportunity to experiment with different crops where the district is frost free for 133 days, as compared with the experimental farms now located in the province at Indian Head, Rosetown, and Scott. At the meeting of delegates from Agricultural Societies in Saskatoon in January last a resolution was unanimously passed asking the Dominion government to establish an experimental farm in the south-western part of the province. Any location on the Shaunavon branch of the C.P.R. or in the Swift Current district, where the farmers have suffered the past two years on account of drought and hot winds, would be satisfactory.

Inspection of Eggs

During the latter half of April, 45 dozens of eggs, or approximately 650,000 dozens, were inspected under the Canadian egg regulations, twenty cars shipped from Ontario points to Toronto, and of these six were graded extra and five graded first. A car of eggs contains from 450 to 500 cases, or 13,500 to 15,000 dozens. A striking feature is the demand for inspection of eggs being shipped within Ontario. Buyers and sellers, having seen the benefits of handling eggs according to inter-provincial trade, are quick to apply the same to shipments within the province. Inspection is by approval at point of shipment.

Long Distance Wireless at Sea
Such striking results have been obtained by the new long-distance Marconi wireless sets which have been installed on board the Canadian liner, Imperator, Mauretania, and Carnarvon, that a rapid extension of these instruments to other great liners may be expected. All these ships will now have direct intercommunication with land over a distance of 1,000 miles.

Canadian Cheese For England

Export of Cheese Will Again Flow Through the Usual Channels

The Canadian minister of agriculture recently received the following cable from the British Ministry of Food: "It has now been definitely decided that the Ministry will not purchase the new season's Canadian cheese. The maximum importer's selling price (32 cents), now in force, will be removed at an early date, but the maximum retail price of one shilling and eight pence (40 cents) per pound for whole milk cheese will remain in force for the time being." The effect of this decision will be that the export of cheese will again flow through the usual channels.

Cruelty in the Country

Old Methods Are Cause of Great Cruelty to Beasts

Custom is the perpetrator of many a cruelty. The farmer, unless he keeps up with the best farm literature, follows his father's methods, needlessly painful though they may be to the farm animals. Think of the millions of swine butchered in the old fashioned way—seized, "struck" and left to stagger around and bleed to death. Many are doing this just as they did it a hundred years ago, in spite of the fact that intelligent farmers first drop the animal by a small bullet rightly placed, destroying all consciousness, and then use the knife. The bleeding is in no way retarded by this plan.

Consider also the cruelty of dehorning cattle, prohibited by law in certain countries, when a little stick of caustic potash is used on the week-old calf's head at the spot where the horns would grow, and causing almost no pain to the calf, would prevent the horn from growing at all. Moisten the place with your finger, dipped in water, and then rub with the potash till the skin slightly begins to look red.

Docking the tails of lambs is another form of cruelty that the country is guilty of, probably because tradition says the wool will become less soiled. While farmers who have had experiment by leaving their lamb's tails on, or have read of some one else who has, know better. Millions of sheep with tails cut off that might have been left on if their owners were seeking to accomplish the end for which they cut them off!

British Naval Supremacy

Britain Has Reason For Maintaining The Most Powerful Navy

The addition of the five floating German dreadnoughts to the British fleet may cause Britain from losing her naval supremacy to the United States during the next two or three years. At present Britain has 33 dreadnoughts. The United States has 27 built or building and is planning for 10 more. Britain has 13 battle-cruisers. The United States is building six and is planning for six more.

The justification for the intensive naval program of the United States is hard to find particularly when President Wilson urges all the nations of the world to join the League of Nations and agree to an all-round reduction of armaments. A clash between the two great divisions of the Anglo-Saxon race is unthinkable. Yet even the best friends of the United States who are citizens of the British empire feel that Britain occupies such a unique position in the world that she has reason for taking such steps as may be necessary to maintain the most powerful navy in the world.

The cost of naval construction keeps on multiplying. The British battleship Hood, with the extraordinary tonnage of 42,000, a length of 860 feet, 31 knots speed, and eight 15-inch guns, is costing thirty million dollars, and it is said that some of the American dreadnoughts now building are expected to cost more than forty million dollars. Recently Japan launched a dreadnought that will be much more costly than any vessel she previously has built.

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from the bottom of the foot. A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

Motors on the Farms
The latest official statistics just published show that farmers in Ontario last year owned more passenger motor-cars than were owned in all the cities of the province; they also owned more than double the number of passenger cars owned in Toronto, and far outdistanced all other occupations in the number of cars owned by individual trades. The classification according to occupation shows 46,997 passenger cars and 825 trucks owned by farmers. Skilled trades come next with 15,042 passenger cars, business men 13,838; doctors, 3,157; other professions, 5,119; manufacturers, 4,362.

Income Tax is Levied on Luxuries By New Budget

Ottawa.—A crowded house and crowded galleries welcomed Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, as he rose to make his first budget speech. Sir Henry dealt first with the economic situation of the Dominion. He emphasized prosperity in trade, the growth of revenue—last year's revenue of $388,000,000 was the best ever collected. He spoke of Canada's strong position in regard to currency.

Prior to stating his taxation proposals, Sir Henry gave an extensive review of the financial and economic position of the Dominion.

Conditions obtaining not only in Canada but all over the world, he said, were very different from the conditions which prevailed while the war was in progress, then the compelling necessity of the moment required the raising of large sums of money. It was absolutely imperative that there should be no check on production, no hindering of the war effort. Today, conditions were changed. The war was won. Expense was great. Canada, with other countries which participated in the titanic struggle, was faced with a pyramid of debt.

"The duty today," Sir Henry declared, "not only to carry on the government of the country with any additions to the debt, but on the other hand to promote measures which will reduce the nation's indebtedness."

"The task, while heavy, was not so severe as the obstacles which Canada had overcome in the five years of war and stress."

"Indeed," Sir Henry proceeded, "were it possible for the country again to become as united and earnest as it was during the war period, if it were possible for each and all of us to sink all differences, class and sectional interests and jealousies, into an effort towards re-establishing a Canada as united and co-ordinated as that which won the war, the task would indeed be easy and simple."

The following is a summary of the taxation proposals:

Luxury taxes.—Ten percent of the total purchase price on boots and shoes costing over $9 a pair; men's and women's suits costing over $45; men's and women's overcoats costing over $50 each; fur coats and robes over $100 each; women's dresses over $45; women's suits over $60, and on hats, boots, neckwear, shirts, gloves and gloves costing above certain specified figures, as well as on some other wearing apparel; all fans, opera cloaks, ivory-handled cutlery, cut glass ware, velvet and silk fabrics, lace, ribbons, silk embroideries and sparkling goods.

Auto on trucks over $40 each, and values, suit cases, etc., over $25 each. This tax to be paid by the purchaser to the vendor at time of sale.

Ten percent on pleasure boats, yachts, canoes and motor boats; cameras, candy and confectionery, chewing gum, fire arms, shells, or cartridges; pianos, organs, musical instruments, and plated ware adapted for household use. This tax payable at the time of sale by Canadian manufacturers or when imported.

Twenty percent of total purchase price on auto articles as cigar and cigarette holders and pipe costing over $2.50; humidors and other equipment for smokers; hunting, shooting and riding garments, fancy pocket-knives, gold, silver, ebony and ivory toilet ware; jewelry, articles of ivory adapted for household or office use; fur wearing apparel (except as mentioned above), liveries, oriental rugs, expensive carpets, curtains and chandeliers. This tax payable by the purchaser at the time of purchase.

Twenty percent on mechanical player pianos, graphophones, and mechanical musical instruments, and on records used therewith.

Fifty percent on articles of gold for household use.

(Latter two taxes being payable at time of sale by manufacturer or when imported.)

Playing cards, 25 cents a pack on cards selling at wholesale rates not over $25 per gross packs, and 50 cents a pack on cards above $25 per gross packs.

Beer, wines and spirits; increase in excise duties on beer of 30 cents a gallon; non-sparking wines, 30 cents a gallon, and on sparkling wines, $3 a gallon.

Motor cars: Excise tax on Canadian manufactured and imported cars increased from ten to fifteen percent.

Sales tax: One percent on the sales of all manufacturers, wholesale dealers, jobbers or importers (not retailers). This tax to be applied to a large list of essential foodstuffs, cattle foods, automotive or bituminous coal or to goods exported.

Stamp duties: Existing tax on cheques continued, but rate increased on bills of exchange and promissory notes. Two cents for bills of $100 or less, and two cents for each additional $100 or fractional part thereof.

Stamp duties on patent medicines, etc.: Henceforth to be affixed by manufacturer or importer, instead of retailer as at present.

Film tax: 15 cents for each day used abolished because of inequality of incidence as between small and large theatres. All the above taxes are effective from the 19th instant.

Income tax: By last year's legislation income tax payable this year on 1919 income were very substantially raised. A further general addition to these taxes of five percent is now added on incomes of $5,000 and up, to be effective this year.

British Naval Estimates

Great Britain Will Not Reduce Beyond Margin Fixed For Naval Safety

London.—Navy estimates for the new financial year under discussion in the house of commons endured a running criticism from a comparatively small number of members anxious to secure reduction of the various votes. Right Hon. Walter Long, first lord of the Admiralty, in reply, declared that no other department showed the same reduction as the admiralty, but the government was determined to do nothing to risk the navy being brought down below the margin that the admiralty was considering removing obstacles in the way of promotion from the lower deck to commissioned rank to which Geo. Barnes, former labor member in the cabinet, retorted:

"A lower deck boy has as much chance of getting commissioned rank as I have of entering the Kingdom of Heaven."

Almost simultaneously Lord Jellicoe, at the Guildhall, was referring to his tour of the Dominions. He said: "It is an empire of which not only the inhabitants of these islands are proud, but those of the overseas dominions also. Our sea communications depend on the British navy and the navies of the dominions, which may be brought into action to help the British navy. It is our duty to see that we are supreme in every weapon going to safeguard our communications."

West Should be Represented

Want Western Interests on Directorate of the C. N. R.

Calgary.—Resolutions urging that there should be representation of the western interests on the board of directors of the Canadian National Railway and that freight rates westward should be based on the same mileage rates as those eastward, and advantage taken of reduced cost of operating government lines through easy grades to the coast, were passed by the conference of representatives of western boards of trade.

A resolution urging the establishment of western executive offices for the railway was withdrawn. W. E. Miller, of Winnipeg, spoke for the desirability of representations on the board of directors, arguing that much of the construction would be done in the west in the next ten years and that large parts of the revenue from the Western National Railway came from the west.

P. J. Shalloo, of Victoria, believed that the great problems of the future would be the devising of a cheap means of placing the wheat grown on the prairies on the markets of the world.

R. Moore, of Swift Current, questioned the wisdom of the first resolution, saying it would tend to create a cleavage between east and west.

Germany's Predicament

May be Compelled to Dispose of the State Owned Utilities to Secure Foreign Credits

Berlin.—If the state-owned public services continue to be run at a loss, the government will finally be compelled to transfer them to foreign corporations so that we may secure further foreign credits, Finance Minister Herr Wirth is reported to have said at an election campaign meeting at Düsseldorf.

The minister forewarned the formation of a great national trust corporation in which great industrial organizations would be incorporated with the one end in view—more foreign credits.

Minister of defence Gessler declared at a public meeting at Cologne, of the 14,000 officers left in the German army at the end of the war, 10,000 had been demobilized.

U. S. Naval Power

Washington.—Appointment of rear admiral Sims, as honorary member of the British admiralty, was declined by the navy department as "un-American," despite the fact that it was preferred by King George himself, Secretary Daniels testified before a senate committee investigating the naval row. Mr. Daniels charged that this incident probably furnished some of the animosity between himself and the admiral.

Require Additional Half Million

Toronto.—Officials of the University of Toronto says the university will require $500,000 in addition to $400,000 which the legislature already has voted to that institution, a total of $900,000 this year being needed.

W. N. U. 1517

New Japanese Agreement

Anglo-Japanese Pact Avoids the Possibility of American Complications

Montreal.—The Montreal Star publishes the following London cables. The new Anglo-Japanese agreement should prevent any possibility of Great Britain being drawn into war with the United States in the event of trouble between Japan and America, according to statements from an authoritative source. The Japanese and British foreign offices are now preparing amendments for inclusion in the new treaty which is being drawn.

The amendment over which Great Britain is greatly concerned is one covering article 4. This article provides that England and Japan decline to go to war in defence of each other against nations with which they have arbitration treaties. The British foreign office proposes to make it clear that this covers the Anglo-American treaty signed in 1914, which became effective subsequent to the signing of the original treaty with Japan. England has always insisted that this article covered the United States, but the changes in article 4 will make this more explicit.

Turks Massing Against Greeks

40,000 Men To Resist Entry Into Thrace

Constantinople.—Greek and Turkish troops have clashed about 25 miles east of Smyrna, where the Turks are taking the offensive and are apparently massing reinforcements preparatory to further advances against the Greeks. Fighting has occurred between Magnisio and Menemen.

Major Tavit, Turkish commandant at Adrianople, has sent a message here from that city saying 40,000 of the Turks and Bulgarians are preparing to resist the Greeks. He declares they will meet the Greeks midway between Chatalja and Adrianople when the Greeks begin the occupation of Thrace.

Poles Receive No Help

War Materials Sent Were Bought in October, Says Roman Law

London.—A question concerning war materials which are being shipped from England to Poland, was recently raised in the house. Andrew Bonar Law, the government spokesman, said they form a part of the supplies purchased by Poland last year and that they were being shipped to the Poles because they are the property of the Polish government. Mr. Bonar Law added that a depot of Poland's surplus stores had last October and that would have been a breach of faith on the part of Great Britain if the despatch of munitions had been prevented. He declared that no assistance, field or otherwise, was being given Poland.

Port Arthur Yards Closed

Port Arthur.—All unions at the Port Arthur shipyards are now on strike and there is not a word of work in the yards. The office staff will be kept on for some time and guards and fire protection will be increased.

The strike is over a request for a 17 percent increase in wages. There have been no moves toward a compromise.

Poles Are Driven Back

Warsaw.—The Bolsheviki have launched an attack on the northern front, between the river Dvina and Bialystok, and the Poles have been compelled to surrender ground in the face of superior forces, say an official communication issued.

The message adds that the fighting continues, but does not give the distance the Poles have withdrawn.

Postmaster Salaries to be Discussed

Ottawa.—Postmasters from all parts of the Dominion were represented at a meeting of members of the commons. Western members have been asked to accompany a delegation of the rural postmasters to the civil service commission when the question of a fixed salary for postmasters will be taken up.

French Officers Acquitted

Paris.—Brig. General Fournier, commander of the French fortress at Maubeuge at the beginning of the war and six of his subordinates, court-martialed for surrendering to the Germans in September, 1914, were all acquitted.

Canada to Send Representative

Ottawa.—In reply to P. R. Du Tremblay, "Laurier-Outremont," in the house, Sir Robert Borden announced that Canada would have a representative present at the final conference to decide the disposal of war indemnities to be paid by Germany.

Big Reduction In Clothing Prices In United States

Crop Prospects Are Bright

Report is Far More Cheerful Than Expected From Late Seeding

Winnipeg.—The Manitoba Free Press' first crop report for 1920 is a decidedly more cheerful document than might have been expected from the very late seeding. Perhaps its very best feature is in the fact that farmers are wise and are not attempting to go on seeding wheat after the middle of May. Speaking broadly, the supply of moisture is excellent, the soil in fine condition and growth very good, not a few districts are reporting wheat up to two to four inches above the normal seeding sari.

Of course, there is a decrease in acreage in wheat, but as that was to be expected, it is no surprise. As nearly as can be estimated from the returns (194 points have been heard from), the decrease is fifteen percent in Saskatchewan and ten percent in Manitoba and Alberta, or, in other words, in 1920 the acreage in wheat is something over 15,700,000 acres, as against 17,600,000 acres in 1919, and given a continuance of the present favorable conditions it will be quite possible for the wheat to reap more wheat from the reduced acreage than it did from the larger acreage of 1919.

The only disappointment in the report is the apparent small increase in coarse grains; the reports indicating that, while there may be some increases at many points there will be no increases at all. The increases will be mainly barley and flax.

Farmers are preparing to do extensive summer plowing, which is a good thing and much needed after the war period.

Supplies of feed and labor are decidedly better than was anticipated, and horses are not in a poor condition for spring work, as might have been expected.

In the districts where there was poorer reports last year, they were asked to report on that condition, and reports are uniformly to the effect that so far no trouble is indicated, and preparations are made for fighting it should it occur.

Big Increase in Trade

First Month of Fiscal Year Shows Increase of Nearly $33,000,000

Ottawa.—An increase of $32,663,172 in the grand total of Canadian trade for the month of April, the first month of the fiscal year, as compared with April, 1919, is shown by the trade items issued from the customs department. The trade of Canada during the past month reached a total value of $54,161,134, as compared with $21,527,962 for the same month a year ago.

Assurance of Denikin's Safety

London.—It was officially announced that satisfactory assurances had been received from M. Tchitcherine, commissary for foreign affairs of Soviet Russia, regarding the safety of the remnants of the General Denikin's forces in the Crimea. It was stated peace negotiations will be opened immediately between the representatives of General Wrangel's army in the south and the Bolsheviki.

New York.—Pursuant to their pledge to the federal reserve board, banking interests of this city have extended their campaign of deflation of credits and high commodity prices. In the financial district this policy has already been effective in reducing the speculative values to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars in the last fortnight. In one instance, that of a prominent trust company, it is said that credits of this character had been reduced by $100,000,000 in the last three weeks.

Banks in the whole state have been proceeding along the same lines, and the pressure exerted by these institutions is said to be directly responsible for the wave of price cutting in many lines of retail trade, especially by the large departmental stores.

The president of a bank in the wholesale shoe district is authority for the statement that loans to dealers in leather and rubber goods are smaller now than at any period in the last 18 months.

The price-slashing movement appeared to have struck the west now. Paper's carry advertisements reading "Reductions of $20 to $70 in women's high class caps, cane wraps and wrap coats," "Fifty percent off on our entire stock of children's and misses' hats," "Any suit, coat or dress at half price," "At less than cost—remaining stock of spring dresses," appeared in one paper.

St. Paul, Minn.—Marked price reductions were announced by several St. Paul business establishments, one wholesale millinery concern, the largest in the northwest, announcing it would open it doors to the trade and dispose of its $1,300,000 stock at prices 50 percent or more below prevailing retail figures.

French Troops Leave Frankfurt

No Incidences or Disturbances Were Noticed During Withdrawal of Troops

Coblenz.—Reports received from Moselle state that all French troops which have been in Frankfurt and other centres, in the Main districts, had returned to the Mayence bridgehead. Five hours were required for the French and Belgian units east of the Rhine to withdraw. No incidences or disturbances were noticed during the day. Mayors of the smaller towns evacuated expressed approval of the attitude of the French upon withdrawing.

Toronto Papers Support Colonization

Toronto.—During that it is a body that should fill national needs and that its efforts are public spirited, the Daily Mail and Empire here publishes a lengthy editorial supporting the Western Colonization association. The Toronto Globe, also commenting editorially, gives splendid support.

Devonshire House Sold

London.—The Duke of Devonshire's house in Piccadilly, one of the oldest and most famous in London, has been sold for one million guineas according to a statement just issued.

New Insurance Company

Ottawa.—An act to incorporate the United Canada Fire Insurance company, of Winnipeg, a new company with capitalization of $3,000,000 passed the select committee on banking and commerce.

Huge Losses In the War Shown by France

Paris.—What is perhaps the first comprehensive statement of France's war losses has just been made by Capt. Andre Tardieu. In describing what he calls "The Balance Sheet" of France, Capt. Tardieu states that during the five years of war eight million men were mobilized, of whom 1,400,000 were killed. France thus lost 57 percent of her men under 32 years of age.

Concerning material losses, Captain Tardieu states that the number of soldiers were disabled, 75,000,000 acres of arable land laid waste, 3,000 miles of railway and 25,000 miles of highways destroyed. Mines which produced 55 percent of the coal output were damaged or destroyed; 11,500 factories, which before the war produced 95 percent of the woolen goods, 90 percent of the linen materials, 70 percent of the sugar and 60 percent of the cotton goods were crippled.

One-third of France's ships were sunk by German submarines. France had to raise more than eight billions of francs, of which sum she was forced to lend 1,320,000,000 to foreign countries.

Poincare Resigns

Paris.—Raymond Poincare has resigned his membership in the reparations commission.

Many Try to Join

The Farmers' Party

W. R. Wood Declares Party Will Stick Absolutely to Action

Taken at Brandon

Winnipeg.—"We are sticking absolutely to the action taken at Brandon," was the pronouncement of W. R. Wood, M.L.A., secretary of the United Farmers of Manitoba, when making a statement regarding the relation of the organization of candidates for constituencies in the coming provincial election.

"The truth is," said Wood, "that various parts of this province are today being over-run by political adventurers who have made up their minds that in a political way the present is a good fishing time for them. Chosen by themselves, or a small clique of personal cronies, they act at the opposite pole from the farmers in their thought of how a representative should be selected. They are profoundly convinced that the farmers' movement is one of the best things above ground in Canada to do to, and feel confident that the actors of this country are going to fall for the discredited stunt once more."

An Ode to Overalls

Once lived a jolly Scottish bard,
An' weel ye ken his name,
Who wrote about the Equinoctial things
And didn't find them same,
He even wrote about a "coat"
Upon a fairly bonnet
And of men who wore the overalls
He made a grand old sonnet.
"For man's a man for a' that
An' a' that, an' a' that
The rank is but the guinea stamp—
A man's a man for a' that."

Oh! good "old dear," kind Bobby
Burns,
If you were here today
And saw the men in overalls
And the ladies all so gay,
You'd just sit up and take a look
And write another sonnet.
You wouldn't stop at woman's crown
Or what was on her bonnet.
Her tailored suit so neat and trim,
"Twas bought across the way,
Gave some poor man a month of toil
His envelope did pay.
Here's to the man in overalls
An' a' that, an' a' that,
His woman dresses up for two,
An' a' that, an' a' that.

But let the ladies wear "glad rags"
And "C. C. L." may wear,
May mount up on golden wings
And drop right at your door,
A shirt and socks, no more,
Can go bare headed; save a hat,
Their Sunday clothes "in store."
For man's a man for a' that

An' a' that, an' a' that;
God bless the men in overalls.
An' a' that, an' a' that.

Not women's suits have silken clothes
And silken bows, an' a' that,
And boots and hats and clay gloves,
An' a' that, an' a' that,
And H. O. L. may higher wear
An' a' that, an' a' that,
E'en tho' the sun wear overalls
An' a' that, an' a' that,
For man's a man for a' that an' a' that,
An' a' that, an' a' that,
Who keeps his nose down to his job
An' a' that, an' a' that.

But, ladies, there's a day will come
An' a' that, an' a' that,
You'll lay aside your dainty gowns
An' a' that, an' a' that,
And when St. Peter holds you up,
An' a' that, an' a' that,
"How did you go when down below,
An' a' that, an' a' that,
"Why all I had was combe-ll-faut,"
I went just as I'd oughter go,
But hooty he wore overalls.
An' a' that, an' a' that.

Man's duds are but the outward show—
A man's a man for a' that an' a' that,
An' a' that.
"Tis being and doing and having that make
All the pleasures and pains of which mankind partake;
To be what God pleases, to do a man's best,
And to have a good heart is the way to be best.—Lord Byron.

Love of The Wild

BY ARCHIE P. McKISHNIE

Printed by Special Arrangements with Thos. Allen, Toronto, Ont.

CHAPTER ONE

The hazy October sunlight sifted through the trees and lay, here and there golden bits of carpet on the mossy woodland floor. A glossy black squirrel paused on one of these splashes of sunlight, and, sitting erect, preened his long fur; then as the harsh scolding of a red squirrel fell on his ears, he sank on all fours again and bounded into the heavy shadow of the wood. A pair of pursuing red squirrels sprang from an opposite grove and with shrill chidings crossed the open to the snake fence. By taking this fence they might intercept the quarry's flight, the object being to make short work of the black, who they hated with an hereditary hatred harking back to the dim past.

In and out they flashed, their yellow-red bodies painting zigzag streaks of gold upon the forest background of green. Suddenly they halted and with tails slashing angrily poured out a tirade of abuse upon the human frustrator of their designs.

He stood leaning against the fence his young face moody, his eyes focused somberly on the new schoolhouse with its unpainted boards, hanging to the face of the hill across the creek. He turned now, his tall form erect, accusation in his glance. Nineteen years among the wild of the wild had schooled him in the knowledge of signs such as that which confronted him, and which were forerunners of the tragedies so numerous in the wooded fastness. "So you would, eh," he grated, "you little murderers, you."

At the sound of his voice the male squirrel, less courageous than his mate, sprang to earth and scurried up to a scraggy beech. The female, not to be cheated out of her wicked pleasure, attempted the old ruse of dropping to the bottom rail of the fence and darting past the boy in this way. But the boy had learned the ways of squirrels as he had learned the ways of all the things of the wild, and as the little animal sprang forward his tail bent earthward.

A muffled squeal came from the bush. A muffled squeal came from the bush. A muffled squeal came from the bush.

"Come into the clearing and we'll have a chase, pup," he said. They passed over to an open spot in the wood and the buckskin boy held in his hand, and when he arose his brown fingers, nipped the animal securely by the back of its neck.

"So it you've been driven the black squirrels out of the bush?" he said. "Well, you won't drive any more, I guess. You've got to hold last run except that one and pup'll give you, and that won't be a very long one. Here, Joe," he called, "come here, old fellow, I've got something for you."

Joe cocked his ears and looked up at his master.

"They'll be looking to see my maybe by now—but, savagely, 'ain't ever going to see her no more."

The squirrel twisted and attempted to dig its long yellow teeth into the hand that held it prisoner.

"She's just like everything else that has babies," frowned the lad, "savagely and foolish. Here you, Joe," he called to the dog, "where are you going, Joe?"

The setter was trotting slowly away.

"What's got into him, I wonder," muttered the young man; "never knew Joe to run away from sport before, unless it was because the old she-dog snatched his nose, after we'd cut down her tree and found her babies."

"Once more he turned the animal about and looked into his big soft eyes."

"I'm going to give you another chance," he said. "Pup don't seem to hanker for your life, and I guess if a dog thinks that way about it I got to think the same way. It's a mighty good thing for you that you've got young 'uns. And now, you thief, murderin' little devil—get."

He tossed the squirrel on the moss. The frantic thing crouched for a second, then sprang away and sought the sheltering branches of a nearby tree.

From this secure refuge she cursed the boy viciously in squirrel language. The boy nodded, then scowled.

"You're quite welcome, I'm sure, he said, and crumpling his hands deep into the pockets of his buckskin trousers he walked thoughtfully back to his old post."

Slowly he climbed the fence and perched himself on its topmost rail, his knees drawn up, his chin sunk in his hands. Once more he gazed somberly across the stumpy clearing to the new schoolhouse on the hill. He hated it, hated the brazen sound of its bell. Mentally he combated it as he combated other elements of civilization. All the young soul of him rebelled against what he considered the defacing of Nature. Those wide swaths which man had moved through the forest to him meant no advancement. They were scars made by interlopers upon the face of a great sweet mother. Nature had endowed the boy's spirit with her own moods. His soul held the shadows of her quiet places as it retained the records of her swishing songs of trees and waterfalls. He knew no order save that of the great Brotherhood of the Untamed. His was a broad kingdom. It was being usurped and would soon be a new power.

Moody and unsmiling he sat upon the gold splashes creeping from the open spaces of the wood and the patches of the yellow-tops of the slashing turned from yellow to bronze-brown and from bronze-brown to gray. A core of brown quail-scurried from a tangled patch of raw-weed to a dry water-run, to scuttle, a long limned line, to the thicket of sumach. Far down in the corner of the fallow another scattered brood were voicing the shrill, mellow call of retreat, and all throughout the darkening wood there sounded the bedley of harmonious voices of wild things in twilight song. Only in the soul of the boy there was a discord that rose and fell and disturbed and old-time restfulness that had been his for nineteen years.

Perhaps the indefinable something that whispered to him pitted him also, for resentment and combative-ness sank away from his heart with the hazy glow of day. Like his great Wild that he loved in the peace of twilight, his soul threw off its struggles and seemed to rest. When darkness came he climbed down from the fence. Through the forest-trees murmured the low song of early night-birds, and to him they voiced a prophecy. Something brushed against him, and the boy bent down and drew the shaggy head of a dog over against his breast.

"Damn 'em," he cried chokingly, and shook a clenched fist towards the swaths of civilization. Then slowly he passed out into the darkness, the dog at his heels.

At the edge of the hill he halted and gazed down the long dark hollow of the creek-bed to where a white splash of water slept beneath the rising moon. All along the wooded vista whip-poor-wills piped their wakeful joy-notes, and the musical whistle of migrating woodcock made a shrill treble note to the harsher wing-song of incoming wild ducks. Dew-mists, laden with the scent of dead leaves and old-time creepers, came to him, and he breathed the sweetness in long, sensuous breaths. But all the while the boy looked toward the bay, and the golden trail of moonlight across it, to the uneven scrag-line of Point aux Pins Forest, and wondered vaguely at the savagery of civilization that sought, as it was seeking, to destroy God's life and beauty.

Growth of Alberta

Some idea of the growth of Alberta during the past seven years is indicated in the statistics obtained by the Wrigley Directory, Ltd. This information shows that in less than 2000 villages and settlements have been established since 1913. In that year Alberta possessed a total of 1,272 cities, towns and villages, whereas now the province can boast of 1,870.

While Money is Cheap

An American banker heads his newspaper advertising with this statement:

"The cheapest thing today is money. A load of corn, a week's wages, an acre of land will buy more money today than for a long time. While it is cheap, get it and save it. Pay your debts with cheap dollars."

This is worth thinking over. Everybody is talking about high prices, everything is away up, but they forget that money is cheap, common and plentiful. It was never wasted right and left as it is now. A worker can buy about twice as much money with a day's work as he ever could before. It is the one thing that is cheap and plentiful. But no sooner does a man (or woman) get it than it is traded off for those things which are scarce and expensive.

The money that is spent, goes cheaply and does not last much, fetches about half its normal value. The money that it saved is of the real old kind, and there's nothing wrong with it at all. Pack some of it away in the savings bank, and it keeps perfectly and draws interest. Use some of it to pay off a permanent debt, and you make the cheap money of today worth as much to you as any money ever was or will be. A worker could now pay off a mortgage on his home with half as many days' work as he could have done five years ago—that is to say, he could do so if he could save things in such a way that he could let his work apply on the mortgage. But he and his family must live, and that's what counts.

And yet, couldn't a great many people save more than they do? Couldn't a great many more people make hay while the sun of cheap money is shining while they are doing it?—From the Toronto Star.

Agricultural Expansion In British Columbia

Remarkable Growth in Production Is Shown in the Last Ten Years

Ten years ago British Columbia, imported foodstuffs equal in value to what it produced. Five years later home production had increased a little more than one hundred percent, and the value of imports had increased only a little more than six and one-half percent, although in the two previous years importation reached a higher level, the year 1914, for instance, standing as the record with a net import of $25,199,000. In 1915 total production was valued at $31,127,801 as against imports valued at $16,434,970. The total production for the year ending December 31 last was nearly $64,000,000, with final returns still to be accounted for, while the value of imported foodstuffs was $22,734,150.

Settlers for Okanagan Valley

There is a steady movement of settlers in the Okanagan Valley this spring and these are a very good sign. The estimate of the 1920 production of the Valley is being placed at seven million dollars. The effect of the return of overseas soldiers to the ranches is being felt in the speeding up of production.

Poisoned By Gas While in a Well

FRANK CARLSON FOUND RELIEF IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Saskatchewan Man Who Suffered All Summer—Claims That His New Lease of Health Is Due to Dodd's Kidney Pills, Livestock, Sask., May 24th. (Special)—Most enthusiastic about the benefit he has received from using Dodd's Kidney Pills is Mr. Frank Carlson, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place.

"I was gassed in a well on my farm 25 years ago," Mr. Carlson says. "I was nearly dead. I was treated for a whole summer for my trouble, but I got no better."

"Then I read in a little almanac about Dodd's Kidney Pills. I had no idea they might benefit me, but I was willing to try anything. To my surprise the improvement in my general health was so great, and my kidneys were so much better, that I feel like advising everybody to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. I would not be without them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys and enable you to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the sovereign remedy for sick kidneys.

Lay by a good store of patience and be sure to put it where you can find it.

Great Britain Prosperous

Few Immigrants Are Coming From England

There will be little real immigration to Canada within the next year, according to Major Tudgie, of Montreal, secretary of the Salvation Army immigration department. Several hundred people from Great Britain are coming to Canada every week, he said, but the numbers are not nearly so large as before the war, and most of the passengers are soldiers' dependents or Canadians who want to England during the war. Most come to find work, and many in twenty is without definite plans.

"England is so prosperous and the wages so high that it would not pay the average working man to change his home," Major Tudgie said. "Coal miners are earning as much as $25 per week, and they would not get that much in Canada."

Saskatchewan Exporting Eggs

The province of Saskatchewan, at one time a large importer of eggs and poultry, is now sending both to the markets of eastern Canada and the Pacific Coast. According to the commissioner of the board of trade and commerce, 900 cases of eggs were shipped in one week recently, each case containing thirty dozen.

Livestock Shows at Chicago and Toronto

Saskatchewan Government to Pay the Transportation Charges

On Livestock

On behalf of the Saskatchewan government, the Hon. Chas. A. Dunning has agreed to pay the transportation charges on Saskatchewan livestock entered for the International Livestock Show at Chicago, and the Toronto Royal Exhibition.

It has been decided that a joint exhibit of not over two car loads of Saskatchewan livestock be sent this fall to the two big shows. The minister has agreed to pay transportation charges providing certain conditions were fulfilled, one of which was that no stock should be sent to this exhibit that had not competed in at least one of the four large Saskatchewan shows, namely Regina, Saskatoon summer exhibitions or winter fairs.

The result of the conference between the members of the livestock board and the minister was completely satisfactory to the board, and steps will be taken immediately to ensure the current and hearty support of the board, in securing the best possible exhibits from the province, well fitted for the occasion.

Mr. Dunning has also received the following resolution which was unanimously passed at the annual meeting of the livestock board:

"We regret, that this meeting of the Saskatchewan livestock board, express its hearty appreciation and commendation of the successful manner in which the provincial minister of agriculture, through his department has handled the serious problems of feed shortage caused by the crop failure last year."

British Columbia Clays

Tests Made Which May Lead to Important Results

A number of clays which were collected from different parts of the province of British Columbia by the geological survey field staff have been tested in the laboratories of the ceramic division. Some of the clays taken from the vicinity of Ducks and other from the Chimney Ridge Creek on the west side of the Fraser River, withstood the temperatures without softening, and would, therefore, be suitable for the manufacture of fire brick. The silty clays on the Nicola Valley and on the Fraser and Thompson Rivers burn to a red color, whilst those on the Columbia Valley and the Windermere Lakes contain a good deal of lime and burn to buff. While these latter were as a rule useless for fire-clays, they were found to be suitable for making building bricks. Other good clays were found among collections from the neighborhood of Smithers and along the Bulkley River between Hazelton and Telkwa. These discoveries are important, particularly the fire-clays, which are needed in the construction of metal furnaces.

Good Prospects for Harvest in France

It is a long way to the harvest, but already M. Thourmyre, undersecretary for food supplies, announces that there is a promise of large crops this year. Wheat grown in France has fallen to less than half the pre-war quantities, and the difference had to be imported most from across the Atlantic.

M. Thourmyre now states that, thanks to the efforts of the Wheat Commission, recently got up to stimulate agriculture, and to favorable weather, France will overcome this shortage by August next. There are prospects of white bread at last.

The rear wheels of the tender and the front wheels of the baggage coach, in which the men were riding, went down, allowing the coach to drop down a twelve foot embankment.

The Energy of the Atom

That there is enough energy in one atom of radium salt to blow the submerged German fleet in "Seapa Flow" to the top of the highest mountain in "Scotland," is the assertion recently made by Sir Oliver Lodge, who, whatever may be thought about his opinions in regard to spiritualism, holds unquestionably the highest place in the scientific world as an authority on radio-activity. The world may well hope that if science ever finds means of releasing atomic energy to its utmost, civilization will be so equipped as to protect itself against such terrific power of destruction being used improperly. Until civilization is so organized, civilization will be safer with such a stupendous secret locked in the secrecy of Nature. These reflections are prompted by the recent cable despatched from London which told of the concentration of certain radio-active material by a long, difficult and costly process, resulting in about a teaspoonful of a certain salt of radium being secured, which was so highly powered that it is to be kept in a lead safe weighing one and a half tons. It cost nearly $100,000 to secure it; of course, it is incalculably far from possessing the power of giving off fully its energy. Any radio active material that science is able to maintain only gives off an exceedingly small fraction of its energy. The horrors of the world war are very evident to us, for thankfulness that humanity is as far as it is from mastering all the destructive forces there are in Nature.
